other "in danger of subjectivism." The author of the article inclines toward the second, the more radical view of Lambert and Saleilles. Questions pratiques. Faut-il reviser la Constitution? (pp. 77-98): A. BERTHOD.—A vigorous attack upon the notion that French social problems can be solved through tinkering with the Constitution in the spirit of traditional and political ideas. The author's criticism is directed especially against proposals to increase the power of the President, and make the executive more independent of the legislature. He closes with a prophecy of future political development in the direction of syndicalism. "Syndicalism is the great organic force of the future." Variétés. Le Meeting d'Oxford. (pp. 99-134): R. LENOIR.—A rather full account of the Oxford Philosophic Congress of 1920, attempting especially to delineate the characteristics of present-day philosophizing in the various countries, and the consequent values of international cooperation in philosophy. Supplément. Livres Nouveaux.
